

May 9, 2021 meeting notes

Nine (9) of the usual suspects attended our first meeting in over a year. It was great to get together again and see some of the projects our members had completed.

Bill B. brought a wine bottle gift box (unfortunately it was empty), and a beautiful wall clock using plans from Cherry Tree.

Maurill M. brought a small wheelbarrow with flowers for mothers day, and some pictures of several beautiful birdhouses he has made (the tenants must love them!)

Gene M. brought 2 bandsaw jewelry boxes and a deer wall picture.

Terrie F. brought several gnomes, and some small animal cutouts for children.

Murray N. brought a lovely corian heart shaped jewelry box.

Matt A. brought 2 geometric wall art plaques.

The main topic of discussion was the request to do a scroll saw demo at the Big E (Eastern States Exposition) on September 30, 2021. Since no one was willing to coordinate the event, and club participation appeared to be limited, we decided not to participate this year. I will let Terri Brown at the Big E know our decision. A suggestion was made to have Terri contact the Baystate Scrollahs and see if they would be willing to demo at the fair, and I will pass this on to him.

Thanks to all those that attended and helped empty my car of the wood that John Almori donated to the club. I will call him and pass on our thanks since he will be moving south soon.

Our next meeting is scheduled for July 11, 2021. I hope the pandemic continues to decline and we will still be able to meet at Woodcraft.
